

CENTRE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL LAW
MACQUARIE UNIVERSITY

MACQUARIE
University
SYDNEY • AUSTRALIA

Image: Inside the hotel in abandoned Pripyat city, Chernobyl Exclusion Zone, Ukraine

THE PROTECTION OF THE NATURAL ENVIRONMENT IN TIMES OF ARMED CONFLICT: A FEW REFLECTIONS IN LIGHT OF THE RUSSIAN INVASION OF UKRAINE

@MacquarieCEL

Dr Eve Massingham | 4 March 2022, 1pm-2pm (AEDT/Sydney time)
Session Chair : Associate Professor Nengye Liu

Dr Eve Massingham is a Senior Research Fellow with the School of Law, The University of Queensland. Eve's expertise is the laws of armed conflict. The topic of her PhD concerned weapons law. She is the co-editor of Ensuring Respect for International Humanitarian Law (Routledge, 2020) and has published book chapters and journal articles in this field. Prior to joining the University of Queensland, Eve worked for the International Red Cross and Red Cross Movement for ten years, including as the International Committee of the Red Cross' Regional Legal Adviser for East Africa and as an International Humanitarian Law officer for Australian Red Cross. She is currently working on projects including on the topics of autonomous military platforms and ensuring respect for the environment during conflict.

REGISTER HERE :<https://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/cel-special-webinar-with-dr-eve-massingham-tickets-288298989037>